

Stakeholder Analysis Chart

Use the chart below to organize information about potential stakeholders related to your community and/or project. As you identify specific organizations, list the name of the person who should be contacted about participating with your group. As you go through your analysis, identify which stakeholders might best serve as members of your group and/or committee and which you may reach out to later to fulfill a specific need. Consider why each organization or individual would be interested in the project. List what resources each stakeholder may have to offer.

Stakeholder Name	Contact Info	Category (business owner, resident, public official, etc.)	What's important to this stakeholder	Potential role in activity or project	What this stakeholder has to offer
